eKRUS Farmer Portal

Farmer, get yourself an eKRUS account!

The eKRUS Farmer Portal is an IT system of the Agricultural Social Insurance Fund (KRUS) designed for farmers, their spouses and household members covered by social or health insurance, as well as for members of their families registered with KRUS for health insurance purposes. The Portal allows you to handle many matters online, without having to visit the office in person.

Use of eKRUS is voluntary and free of charge

All visitors have access to basic information about farmers' social and health insurance, as well as about benefits to which the insured farmers are entitled. Once you register with the eKRUS Farmer Portal, you will have access to personalised details.

Functionalities for farmers registered at eKRUS

- You can access information concerning coverage periods, insurance premium lists, payment deadlines and history, as well as coverage periods and premiums of assistant farmers.
- You can pay your own or your assistant farmer's social and health insurance premiums and debt online.
- You can fill out and submit electronic applications such as: a request for a maternity allowance, a request for one-off compensation in respect of a permanent or long-standing injury due to an agricultural work accident, an accident report, a statement concerning economic activities, or a request for an extension of the sickness allowance payment period.

- You can register for accident, sickness, and maternal insurance, as well as register assistant farmers for health insurance for the period of their assistance at the farm.
 - You can download electronic certificates, including certificates on your coverage under social farmers' insurance, on your social farmers' insurance coverage periods, as well as on your health insurance coverage periods and premium payments.

How to register at eKRUS?

To create an account with eKRUS, you need to be insured with the Agricultural Social Insurance Fund (KRUS). To register, you only need a computer, a PDF reader, and access to the Internet.

Next, register via www.ekrus.gov.pl (select the Register tab) and fill out the application.

You can fill out the application:

1. in paper form;
2. electronically, which requires a trusted profile;
3. through ePUAP.

If you wish to fill out the application in paper form, you will have to fill it out, sign it, and submit it at the local KRUS unit. In other cases, the application is submitted to the Fund automatically.

After you register and accept the Terms of Use, you will be able to enjoy all the functionalities that the Portal offers!

By using eKRUS, you're saving time – you don't have to wait at the KRUS regional office or local unit, and you can handle many matters remotely, at any time you wish. eKRUS also means transparency – all data are collected in one spot, which facilitates your management of insurance.

eKRUS Day

From 18 to 22 November 2024, the Fund held an information campaign addressed to farmers insured with KRUS, focusing on the eKRUS Farmer Portal. All the organisational units of the Fund – the Headquarters, regional offices and local units – were involved. Thanks to their joint efforts, 2,243 farmers created their accounts on the Portal. This is the greatest increase in the number of users in such a short period of time since 2016, the year that the Portal was launched. In just one week, the Fund's units were visited by close to 2,000 farmers!
